Red Deer Student Winner Of Top University Award

Award of the governor-general's gold medal to Eoin Laird Whitney, 25-year-old veteran of Red Deer, for the highest scholastic standing of any student at the University of Alberta this year was announced today by G. B. Taylor, university registrar.

"I hadn't exactly expected that!" he exclaimed when informed by The Bulletin he had won the award. "Naturally I'm very happy to hear of it."

Mr. Whitney holds the degree of Bachelor of Science and took first-class honors in mathematics. In October, 1947, he was winner in the Putnam Mathematical competition.

His university career was interrupted by five years of service in the RCAF. He attended the University of Alberta for three years before the war and two years since.

At present he is living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Whitney at Red Deer, but plans to enter the University of Toronto next fall to work towards his Masters degree in his chosen subject.

He will be employed in Toronto during the summer on work related to the mathematical sciences, he said.

Other awards announced today were:

THE FACULTY OF ARTS AND SCIENCE
The Governor-General's Gold Medal: Eoin Laird Whitney, Red Deer.

THE FACULTY OF AGRICULTURE
The Alberta Branches of the Agricultural Institute of Canada Gold Medal: Ruth Olive Ann Renner, Calgary.

THE FACULTY OF APPLIED SCIENCE
The Henry Birks and Sons Gold Medal in Applied Science: Israel Arnold Leuk, Medicine Hat.

The Association of Professional Engineers of Alberta Gold Medal: In Chemical Engineering, Arthur Bert; in Mechanical Engineering, Eldon Lloyd Fowler, Vankatesan; in Electrical Engineering, Enaley Allan Good; in Mining Engineering, not awarded.

Jews Here Will Give Thanks for New State

Edmonton Jews will express their thanksgiving for the formation of the new state Israel Sunday evening at a religious rally in the Talmud Torah hall at 8 o'clock.

In holding this service Sunday Edmonton Jews will be joining with others throughout Canada in celebrating their homeland.

"This is a very happy day for us because the dream of Israel for the last 2,000 years has been realized," Dr. Wershof, president of the Zionist Council in Edmonton, said today.

This is especially so as the state of Israel had been formed within the framework of the United Nations, thus giving it legal status and the responsibilities and sacrifices that went with such status.

Dr. Wershof declared:

"For the Jews who enjoy freedom under the Canadian and British flags, Israel would be a spiritual home," he said.

"For the Jews behind barred wire in Europe it would be a physical home," Dr. Wershof added.

"I believe that the immediate future is not going to be as troubled as many people suggest," Leonard Bercuson, western executive director of the Zionist Organization of Canada, said in expressing his pleasure at the formation of the state of Israel.

U.S. Parcels Out Europe Aid Grants

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—The United States yesterday parcelled out $1,186,000,000 in grants and loans to 11 of the Marshall Plan countries, the first in the first three months of the European Recovery Program.

N. Y. STOCKS MAKE SENSATIONAL SPURT

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—The greatest flood of buying orders since 1929 swept into the stock market today on top of Friday's sensational advance.

The exchange was forced to use its emergency system of "flashing" prices from the trading floor to give an up-to-the-minute picture of the market. The high speed ticker tape lagged as much as 13 minutes behind actual trading.

The "flash" prices were mostly a shade higher than reported on the tape.

Generally prices were up a few cents to more than $1 a share.

Board Takes Over Wild Atlantic Well

Operation of the uncontrolled Atlantic well No. 3 was placed temporarily under control of the Alberta Natural Gas and Oil Conservation Board today.

The announcement was made by I. N. McKinnon, chairman of the conservation board and assistant deputy minister of lands and mines.

Services of V. J. Moroney, operations manager of Imperial Oil Ltd., have been retained by the board.

Mr. Moroney will be in control of efforts being made to bring the wild well under control.

CLEAR WEATHER HELPS
Clear weather Saturday was greeted with satisfaction by crews battling to bring the well under control and clear up some 10,000 barrels of oil held in pits around the run-away well.

Friday the battle had been made more difficult by muddy roads.

By this evening oil will be flowing through the pipeline to Nisku at a rate of 12,000 barrels a day, officials stated.

The conservation board will be the selling agency for production from the wild well, Mr. McKinnon said.

After expenses for bringing the well under control are deducted the board will account for any remaining revenues to the companies producing in the field before production was ordered halted.

An area four miles square around the wild well is closed to the general public.

Belgium Retains Coalition Govt.
BRUSSELS, May 15.—(AP)—After 10 days of crisis Belgium last night retained its 14-month-old Socialist-Catholic coalition government headed by Paul-Henri Spaak as premier and minister of foreign affairs.

Spaak, a Socialist, withdrew the cabinet resignation submitted May 8 after the Socialist and Catholic party failed to agree on a school subsidies policy. The issue was compromised.

Californians Want To Seed Farms by Plane

Late seeding of thousands of acres of Alberta crop may be speeded up if plans of two Californians materialize.

They are Roger Brundt and R. P. Lane.

The two men have developed a method of seeding grain by air planes, and they are investigating possibilities of bringing the planes to Alberta after they have completed seeding operations in the Sacramento Valley in California.

In an interview in the Corona hotel, Mr. Lane said five of the planes could be brought here by June first to take part in seeding operations.

With the long Alberta days, he said each plane would be capable of seeding 1,000 acres per day which he claims, would prove of considerable value to Alberta farmers in overcoming the handicap resulting from the late spring season.

Edmonton Has A Big Heart

Dear Christine, We're Sending Lots of Dolls

Edmonton, Alberta, May 15, 1948.

To Christine, Cornwall, England.

Dear Christine:

On Friday The Bulletin published a letter from your adoptive mother asking the people of Edmonton if anyone had a big doll "that sleeps" for you.

Today we want to tell you that we most certainly have a doll for you and we also have dolls for several other little girls just like yourself.

Arab Troops Push Into Jewish State

By Eliav Simon

TEL AVIV, May 15.—(BUP)—Egyptian planes attacked Tel Aviv four times today as the Arab nations struck hard against the new-born Jewish State called Israel.

But Haganah troops, fiercely defending their new homeland, shot down one of the few planes the Egyptians could throw into the attack, and appeared also to have won control of Jerusalem, scene of bitter house-to-house fighting yesterday.

Two Egyptian ground forces, with infantry and artillery, drove across the borders of Palestine, and Cairo reports claimed that one of them "wiped out" the Jewish village of Ajlun, on the road to Beer sheva, when its defenders refused to surrender.

Jewish sources here had no information on this fighting. Ajlun is just across the Palestine border from Sinai, and would have been in Jewish territory under the United Nations partition plan. If the Cairo claim was true, it was assumed the Egyptian troops were pressing on toward Beer sheva, to approach the Jerusalem area from the south.

The first Egyptian air-raid on Tel Aviv came early today. Four planes attacked at 300-foot altitude, two dropping bombs and the others strafing. Little damage resulted.

A second attack came within two hours, and the Egyptian planes bombed the airport just north of this new Jewish capital, damaging one Air France plane parked there. In this attack, the Egyptian planes were intercepted by Haganah fighter aircraft, and one Egyptian plane was shot down, the pilot being captured.

A third raid came before noon, but the attacking planes were driven off without causing damage. The fourth attack on Tel Aviv was made this afternoon.

The Egyptian airforce, which has some British Spitfires, is believed probing Jewish air defences.

Reinforcements Arrive

Reinforcements and arms were coming in by ship. During the third Egyptian air raid, two ships carrying about 1,000 immigrants—among them young men to bolster Haganah forces—entered the Tel Aviv harbor. They came from Marseille and Cyprus, and those aboard already had swiftly improvised visas of the day-old Jewish State of Israel.

Radio reports received here from Haganah men in Jerusalem said that Jewish forces seized all strategic points in the Holy City, a hard fighting after the British left the city, and that truce negotiations with the Arabs were in progress there.

Outside Jerusalem, the picture was less good for the Jews. Jewish reports said that Syrian and Lebanese troops had crossed the Jordan frontier, and that Palestine "in strength" had been engaged by the forces of Israel.

U. S. May Lift Ban On Arms For Jews

By R. H. Shackford

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(BUP)—President Truman is considering a proposal to lift the embargo on shipment of arms to Palestine, an informed White House source said today.

Such action would follow this government's recognition of the new Jewish State of Israel in Palestine.

The White House, meanwhile, let be known that Mr. Truman is considering the establishment of diplomatic negotiations with the provisional government of Israel.

White House press secretary, Charles G. Ross, told a news conference that "as far as the administration's recognition of Israel as an independent state has been overwhelmingly favorable."

UN Session Ends, No Solution For War

NEW YORK, May 15.—(CP)—The United Nations second special session on Palestine, exploded by recognition of the Jewish State by the United States, was concluded last night.

The 48-member world agency, which has been sitting since April 16 to find a solution to the problem of warring Arabs and Jews, made last-minute provisions for appointment of a mediator between the factions but failed to agree on a plan for protection of Jerusalem.

The vote of 31 to 7 with 16 abstentions, which passed the United States proposal for a mediator, was not included until two hours after Britain ended her quarter-century of rule over the Holy Land.

Britain, whose differences with the United States on the Palestine problem previously had been marked, voted for the plan, along with Canada. The Soviet bloc was in the negative.

The French-American proposal to appoint a commissioner for Jerusalem with powers to organize a local defence force was defeated when it failed to receive a two-thirds majority. The vote was 30 to 17 with 20 abstentions.

Informed sources predicted that this rule of the mediator—appointed by a committee comprising the five big powers—would be strengthened by U.S. recognition of Israel. The mediator now would deal with a Jewish State and a proposed Arab State rather than with unrecognized parties.

Goodbye for now, Christine, and please let us know as soon as you receive your doll.

Yours sincerely,
The Edmonton Bulletin.

ALASKA GETS WORLD'S LARGEST AIR HANGAR

OAKLAND, Calif., May 15.—(AP)—The U.S. air force is building in Alaska what is believed to be the world's largest airplane hangar.

This was disclosed yesterday in an announcement by Judson Pacific-Murphy Corp. that it has completed 80 per cent of the prefabricated steel framework for the project.

The hangar will be at a point known as Mile 26 north of Fairbanks. Its dimensions: 300 feet long, 300 feet wide, 80 feet high. Sliding doors will open to a width of 260 feet. This exceeds the wing span of any plane now in service.

The framework, using 3,000 tons of steel, will cost $750,000 alone. It will be delivered to Alaska by rail and army transport.

GOLD MEDAL WINNER at University of Alberta for 1948 is Eoin Laird Whitney, 25-year-old Red Deer veteran-student who will be presented with governor-general's award at Convocation which is being held May 18 and 19.

CHRISTINE WILL BE HAPPY when she receives this life-size doll turned over to The Bulletin by John Easton, of Easton's Furniture, a few minutes after The Bulletin's appeal carried in Friday's editions. (Story on Page one). —Photo by Bland

Big Shrine Circus Is Coming To Town

Edmonton Arena is being transformed from the headquarters of the Allan Cup champions to the home of the Shrine Circus.

The hockey ice is being replaced with a surface more in keeping with the ponderous elephants which will be using it.

The show will give six performances from May 26 to May 29.

Featured in the animal line, besides elephants, will be seals, trained horses, and performing dogs.

Eye-catching acts include trapeze artists who Edmonton Shrine Club and Rotary Club members claim can hang onto a trapeze by their dimples.

Dogs of clowns will take part in the show.

Other acts include a trampoline act, a web cloud swing, chimpanzees balancing ladders, riding exhibitions and during head-balancing trapeze acts.

Featured in the high acts is Princess Musetta, who flips from pillar to post high above the arena floor—without a safety net.

A matinee and evening performance will be presented the first and last days, with evening performances every night between.

All seats are reserved, and tickets are on sale at Mike's newsstand.

Coupons obtained from club members entitle the holder to first class reserved seats from May 17 to 19.

OIL SANDS HEARING COMES UP IN JUNE

Alberta government's statement of claim against Oil Sands Ltd., has been set down for trial by the supreme court in June.

Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general, said Friday he thought that the case would be heard some time next month.

The statement has been filed by the government to protect more than half a million dollars advanced to the company for the construction of a testing plant at Bitumont to determine the commercial feasibility of extracting gasoline from the province's resources of oil sands along the Athabasca river.

TOO MUCH HURRY BRINGS COUPLE BEFORE CADI

Two men who had been in a hurry appeared in police court Friday.

Charged with creating a disturbance at the Ukrainian Hall, on 98 street, Thursday night, were Mervin Young, 2826 91 Avenue, and Nick Wanchulak, 10638 97 street.

The two men claimed they had been in a hurry to obtain their coats from the checkroom at the conclusion of the dance at the Ukrainian Hall.

According to police reports a fracas started when a man pulled Young back from the lineup.

Magistrate Simpson fined Young $13 and costs for creating a disturbance. The charge against Wanchulak was withdrawn.

The report was compiled during last summer by J. W. Judge, deputy minister of municipal affairs, who was appointed a one-man commission to inquire into and report on alleged inequities in taxation and responsibilities between municipalities and the provincial government.

Increases in grants from the provincial government business enterprises within municipal boundaries was another of Mr. Judge's recommendations.

Testing Station For Hogs Planned

Edmonton may have a new advanced registry hog-testing station in the near future.

Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture, told Patrick M. Ashby, East Edmonton member in Ottawa on Thursday the federal government was considering purchase of property near Edmonton to set up a hog-testing station to replace the one which was burned here last March 9, at 50th street and 126th ave.

The testing stations are used by departmental authorities to try out the effects of different hog-feeding formulas on various types of hogs to determine the effect of certain treatment on the production of good "bacon type" pigs.

Local officials of the federal department of agriculture said they had no knowledge of any transactions which might take place.

Retail Merchants Ask Tax Levy Equality

A demand for equality in income tax levies on co-operative and profit-taking types of business was made by the Dominion Board of the Retail Merchants Association of

In a resolution passed at the Thursday meeting, the association contended that public interest would be best served by an equal income taxation basis, and any form of preference in the application of the act constitutes an unwarranted and unsound economic policy.

An attempt is being made, according to the RMA, by the Co-operative Union of Canada to seek special privileges for the co-operative form of business operation.

If requests of the union were granted, the association states, they would constitute an unfair discrimination in favor of a particular type of business and would mean that the privately-owned and directed business would be subsidizing its co-operative competition.

Arrangements are now under way to move the head offices of Alberta branch of the RMA from Calgary to Edmonton. Details of the move, however, have not yet been completed.

Interests of Alberta retailers can be better served, according to A. C. MacKay, provincial secretary, if the head office is located at the seat of government.

At a meeting of the Food Division George Whittier of Prince Albert was elected president. A. E. Hodge, Falconbridge, Ontario, was elected vice-president and A. G. Frame, Toronto, national secretary.

Former official of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, W. S. Jamieson was appointed as merchandising consultant to the national food division.

Good Wishes to New State

The bold proclamation of the State of Israel in Palestine is a truly historic event and men of good will throughout the world will extend the warmest wishes for its survival and its health.

The birth of the new state is of great historic importance because it is the first time since the year 70 A.D. that the Jews have been a sovereign power.

It is exactly 1878 years since the savage Roman Titus conquered and destroyed Jerusalem, razing its walls and buildings to the ground and sowing its soil with salt so that no living thing could grow there.

To be homeless for 1878 years is a poignant thing. And while the Jews have established themselves successfully in many lands and have become useful and respected citizens of many countries, their ambition to establish a homeland, realized now, is legitimate and praiseworthy in every way.

The establishment of that sovereign Jewish state is particularly urgent since thousands of Jews, pursued with that same relentless hate that moved Titus just 70 years after the birth of Christ, have no real refuge on the face of the earth.

The proclamation of the State of Israel is a bold and courageous move because seven Arab powers are said to be prepared to contest the establishment by force of arms.

Whatever numbers are arrayed against them, the Jews will be strengthened by the righteousness of their cause.

For there is plenty of room in Palestine for both Arabs and Jews. And the Jews have quite as much right to sovereignty as Transjordan or Lebanon or Saudi Arabia.

At any rate, the Jewish state has become an accomplished fact. The United Nations will do well to accept it and accord it all its rights and dignities.

Community Leagues Wage War

Edmonton's 28 community leagues are to be commended for the action they plan to take against the annual mosquito plague.

With DDT supplied by the city and oil, presumably supplied by themselves, they propose to spray every pond and puddle in the city that might conceivably serve as a breeding place for the insects that in a wet season make outdoor life intolerable.

The drive of the community leagues will be supplementary to the action of the parks department of the city which will spray the larger water areas from which mosquitoes are derived.

The campaign is timely. A wet season in Edmonton can produce so many mosquitoes that gardening and outdoor sports can virtually be brought to a standstill.

Soviet Policy Is Changing

The recall of Andrei A. Gromyko as chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations is very substantial proof that Russia's foreign policy is undergoing some sort of change.

This conclusion is supported by the recent attempt of Russia to inveigle the United States into a two-power conference, an attempt which was interpreted as an effort to make it appear that the United States had embarked on a course of appeasement.

But while some shift in policy is indicated by these moves, it would be a dangerous mistake to assume that any relaxation in the Communist campaign towards world power is contemplated.

Gromyko has been a tactician and abrupt obstructionist.

It is more reasonable to expect that he will be succeeded by an even more skilled obstructionist than by a delegate more apt at conciliation.

The interchange with the United States the other day was an obvious trick to place the Democracies in a false position.

There is nothing to warrant the hope that Gromyko's retirement is anything but another trick of a similar nature.

Christian Church Is Divine

In the Christian calendar, tomorrow is Pentecost, which commemorates Pentecost, the occasion upon which God the Holy Ghost descended upon the apostles and gave them power to proceed with the perpetuation of Christ's Church.

It would be rash to attempt any definition here of the peculiar functions assumed by any of the Three Persons of the Holy Trinity. But Jesus Christ, or God the Son, foretold the coming of the Holy Ghost who would comfort Christ's people in His absence and lend authority to the Church of which Christ is the head.

Pentecost extends many temptations to elaborate the place of God the Holy Ghost in the Christian Church.

But it is sufficient to our purpose here to employ the event as perfect and convincing proof that the Church is not an organization built by human men and women but is of divine origin and of divine authority.

The extent of that authority is defined by different communions in different ways. Some communions contest with abhorrence the authority claimed by others.

But be that as it may, the essential fact is that the Church was founded, not by man, but by God.

It is not a building or a group of men and women or any collection of ministers or pastors. It is the Body of Christ, all the faithful, living and dead and yet to be born, of which Jesus Himself is the living head.

Britain's Bureaucracy Is Warning to Canada

The fellow said to me in the bus, he said: "Why do you people get all steamed up about a little bureaucracy in the post office department? Like the Grierson Estate business, for instance? Don't you know there's got to be some bureaucracy in every government?"

Well, that was that.

But coincidences are always happening to me. And the coincidence here was that on that very afternoon somebody shoved into my hand a copy of The Wall Street Journal which contained an article by John D. Leonard on "Britain's Bureaucracy" which sounds very ominous but which was really so rollicking that I want to quote some of it here.

The Wall Street Journal is not a humorous publication, God knows, but for a satirical comment on our times and particularly on our times in Britain, this article would rank with a hot shot from the pen of the late Jonathan Swift.

What Mr. Leonard's article describes is how the British are sweating under the 75,000 new rules issued by the Home Office, the Social Security Department—just a little enlargement of what Grierson Estate people have been going through with Ottawa.

Re Horns On Angus Bulls

Here are some samples: The British board of trade produced an edict that metal discs must be attached to the horns of sentries and Angus bulls being exported. Later the order was amended to require, instead, that the horns be branded.

Then it was revoked altogether because someone had belatedly discovered that Angus bulls do not have horns at all.

An Australian married in Britain sent pieces of wedding cake home to his friends. His packages were returned empty with an official note that "conflictionary may not be exported."

Somebody in the Socialist hierarchy dreamed up a regulation to prohibit picking or sale of small green onions. The simple British farmer was enlightened on the point by being told that the "diameter" shall be construed as alphanumerically indexed, and the bulb measured at right angles to the axis through the bulb and stem.

This Is Freedom

Consider the plight of the freedom-loving Briton born and freedom-loving Briton. The ministry of food with its rations lists 47,000,000 Britons what to eat for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

The board of trade decides how much clothing they can buy. The ministry of health controls the building and the repair of homes. The ministry of fuel determines which of them may drive a motor car and where they may go in it. The treasury prescribes which foreign countries they may visit. The ministry of agriculture has the last word on who may kill a pig. The ministry of supply parcels out steel and other supplies to industry. To enforce all these rules, the number of the regular civil service has been boosted from the normal 300,000 to 700,000.

The total number of people on the payroll of the government is something more than 2,000,000.

Six Books Of Rules

In order that the law-abiding Briton may readily comprehend the 25,000 rules by which his life is governed, there is a manual for his guidance.

It is grandly known as Butterworth's Emergency Legislation Service and it comes in six large volumes.

Here the bewildered citizen may search out all the laws that plague him. It is true that Butterworth's etc. is couched in legal language so profound as to be slightly more obscure than the laws which it pretends to interpret.

But it's all there—all neatly and alphabetically indexed, anachronies and antiques, beads and blotches, etc., because the penalties handed out for infraction even through ignorance run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In fact, the courts are so jammed up with such cases that they haven't much time for anything else.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Jewry Hails Jewish State

Editor, Bulletin: Jews in Canada, together with Jews the world over and people of good-will everywhere, will join in observing the proclamation of a Jewish State in Palestine. As Jews and as Canadians, we dedicate ourselves to the restoration of Jewish nationhood wherein all peoples, irrespective of race, creed or nationality, will find ample opportunity to live in peace with equal rights and obligations; with mutual trust and respect and in full accord with democratic principles for which Jews have struggled and laid down their lives for centuries.

Establishment of Jewish State will rekindle anew the flame for creative life in the hearts and minds of the Jews and of Jews still in displaced persons' camps almost three years after the cessation of hostilities. We look forward to the rapidly approaching day when this Jewish member of the family of nations will take its place in the councils of world assembly and in the councils of universal peace in the spirit of the Prophets of Israel. Proudly but humbly Canadian Jews hail the new State—a Jewish State—where all citizens will live in dignity and in honour.

No Saints Forgotten

Editor, Bulletin—On your editorial page, May 5th, appears a letter signed "Mrs. John Bull, Edmonton." Mrs. Bull congratulates the Anniversary of St. George's Day was duly neglected by radio stations, having tuned to all Edmonton stations from 7 to 9 a.m. Friday, April 10th.

It is to be regretted that Mrs. Bull was disappointed, but may I suggest that she be tuned to radio long enough. The A.L.C. Show (C.I.C.A.) 12:15 noon every Sunday, and the St. George's Day dramatized in presentation by old English airs that—frankly received—highly delighted the most sensitive ear and memories of British people in our midst.

What concerns me most is "the steel and other supplies to industry."

To enforce all these rules, the number of the regular civil service has been boosted from the normal 300,000 to 700,000.

Objects To Cartoons

Editor, Bulletin—Re the cartoon in the May 8th edition. In my opinion it is an insult to all Jews and to the Jewish State. It implies that it is right and proper to celebrate "Mother's Day" by the parents instead of with our children in the places for them to go.

How thankful we should be that there are Jewish children such things and may there come a day when we won't have to see the results of drinking in the streets with cars, and the ruin of our boys and girls; also our streets would be a safe place for mothers and girls, when necessary for them to be on them in the evening.

We have been a Bulletin subscriber for over sixteen years. But if that is going to be the policy we will have to discontinue same.

Keep Cyclists Off Sidewalks

Editor, Bulletin—I put in my two cents worth in answer to your editorial of Wednesday, May 5th, with the following suggested account of road conditions on 81st street from Eastwood to 118th avenue.

Admittedly this road was in bad shape after the spring thaw (what read in Edmonton was 17) 11808 90 St.

PLEASED WITH AIR EDITOR

Editor, Bulletin—My Bulletin was just delivered and my girl tells me The Bulletin is again 25c. I was so thankful to get my paper the same day as printed.

Another thing, why do people write to the Editor and not sign their names? The Bulletin should refuse to print them.

How about more puzzles? MRS. J. U. C. ALOWAY, Grande Prairie, Alta.

Smiles "How the deuce," asked the officer on the rifle range, "have you got those four straight bulls?"

Your range is six hundred yards, but your sight is set at three hundred."

Said the recruit: "See that little rifle halfway along? Well, I'm bouncing 'em off that."

"Now we know that the earth is round," said the school-master. "Tell me, Thomas, would it be possible for you to walk round the earth?"

"No why not?"

"Because," was the unexpected reply, "I missed my ankle playing football."

SAFETY FIRST.

On days when the road is muddy would it be such an intolerable hardship for them to push their bicycles on this same sidewalk for two blocks?

There are two hazzers, a male and female, at each street corner, wearing sombre gray uniforms and carrying blacksticks.

As each car lurches to a stop it is the hazzer's job to stuff in as many bodies as possible.

These hazzers come in several types. One, for example, uses The Shame Approach.

"All right, folks," this hazzer intones in a sepulchral voice, "the other chap was charged with home too, you know. Give the other fellow a break, folks, that's the golden rule." Then he hits the unwilling people with the blackstick.

There is something wrong with the present system of taxation. This penalty imposed on all who beautify their homes instead of in people letting their neighborhoods fall into decay, and produce a bad example.

Proper taxation should be based on: 1. Size of the building; 2. district; 3. transportation, schools, etc.

These three factors should be the basis for taxation. The people should be encouraged to beautify their homes instead of being taxed all the heavier.

This unfair system should be changed before the summer slums. The working man, with the present wages, is in no position to pay the same day as printed.

OUR TOWN

By Jack Scott

Dreadful Perils In Toronto Cars

It is now three weeks since the dam burst in our budget and swept away our automobile. In this period I have been a part of the pitiful human cargo known as street car passengers or the living dead.

Until yesterday I was prepared to believe that we western passengers had plucked the depths of mass misery and horror from the City of Toronto. Then, into my office walked Mr. Pierre Berton, new-byserved from the City of Toronto, and with a chastely tale to tell of horror on wheels.

I am presenting the printable parts of his report as an indication of things to come. To begin with, Toronto has ten thousand of the new rocket-type street cars which travel slightly faster than the fastest sound. This is very annoying to pedestrians and frequently fatal.

The Toronto Transportation Commission (a phrase used as a curse along the shores of Ontario) has incorporated a radical feature in these cars. There are windows for people who stand, a departure in design which followed the discovery that nobody sits down in these street cars except when they come to a halt, a situation like hitting a ball wall.

Mr. Berton reports that people faint regularly in the rush hours without exciting comment. These unfortunate folk can be identified only by their closed eyes and the sweat on their brow. They cannot fall down because of the crash, and are simply swept toward the folding doors, a departing, ejected mechanically at their own peril and allowed to walk robot-like to the curbs eyes blinking slightly.

Duties Of The Hazzers

In Toronto, too, there are men and women employed solely to whip, cajole, threaten, and plead with the beaten little people who ride the street cars. Mr. Berton calls them "hazzers"—a word which exactly describes their profession. Most of them, he reports, are people who failed to make the grade as Alcatraz guards. Too brutal.

There are two hazzers, a male and female, at each street corner, wearing sombre gray uniforms and carrying blacksticks. As each car lurches to a stop it is the hazzer's job to stuff in as many bodies as possible.

These hazzers come in several types. One, for example, uses The Shame Approach. "All right, folks," this hazzer intones in a sepulchral voice, "the other chap was charged with home too, you know. Give the other fellow a break, folks, that's the golden rule." Then he hits the unwilling people with the blackstick.

blackjack and stuffs them in the front entrance, or so Berton claims.

There is also a female hazzar, a golden-haired young lady who is unique in the TTC—her psychology. It appears, it is to get down on one knee, clasp her hands together and cry piteously, "Please! please! Oh, please won't any of you shove back in the car—just for little me." Mr. Berton reports she often helps elderly ladies up the steps before kicking them inside.

Bloor Street—the Siberia of the TTC—has quite another type. Only the hardest and most enterprising of TTC conductors and hazzers are banished to Bloor Street. My informant claims that a conductor must have at least 18 maimed passengers to his credit before he is considered fit for the Bloor Street line, and that the scenes of carnage in the rush hours are terrible to behold.

Street Car On A Leash

It was on a Bloor car that Mr. Berton observed an elderly gentleman leaning against the doors which were closing inexorably upon him. His arm was clasped about the door, and as the car gathered speed the unfortunate traveller was dragged along the street, beating on the glass and protesting in a voice which was muffled from the passengers, all of whom tried not to notice.

Mr. Berton reports the case of a woman who foolishly attempted to board a car with a dog on a leash. The dog possessed of superior animal cunning, sensed the platform safety, but the woman was out-done in the race by several other passengers.

When the street car started again this unhappy woman found she was attached to it by a leash and leaped along for a block, carrying a number of pedestrians to the ground. There is a remarkable woman, she seems to have a street car on a leash."

Getting off the Toronto street cars appears to be even more difficult than getting on. My informant tells of one fellow who, after waiting for a long time only to find himself hopelessly wedged in by a wall of human flesh, "My God, I'm trapped in panic. It's my stop! I'm trapped! Whatever shall I do?"

A resourceful Salvation Army captain came to his aid and instantly lifted the man above the heads of the crowd. The passenger then made a dash for it, found the current and began to swim toward the door, obviously screaming with terror. He was finally ejected at his stop head first.

It will vouch for the honesty of these reports, but they may seem a little exaggerated. My trip seem not quite so terrible.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

The Upward Struggle

When a patient who had met with a serious accident asked him how long he would have to lie in bed, his doctor replied: "Only a day at a time."

What the doctor meant, of course, was that his patient must have patience. Patience is not an easy virtue; but it is indispensable to progress in both the temporal and spiritual life. "Let us run with patience the race that is set before us," says Scripture. Men must be patient if they are to overcome their faults or advance to higher planes of spiritual living.

For men who have let evil habits become second nature, the road of redemption is never short. It is a fine thing to turn resolutely from a life of sin, but it takes high courage to keep up the effort. Discouragement may come from looking too far ahead. Only by thinking in terms of the day rather than the year ahead may the sinner hope to write a story of real personal regeneration.

Patience must be the keyword also of those who seek the heights of holiness. No man becomes a saint overnight. He must pray constantly. He must patiently analyze his weaknesses and strive in patience to overcome them. Not until he has finally weeded the garden of his soul may he hope to make his life an offering worthy in the eyes of God.

For the sinner who must begin at a sadly low level, or the man who stands already on high ground but aspires toward the heights of perfection, the same law prevails. Each may advance only a day at a time.

However, for each there is always, even in the hours of greatest difficulty, the assurance that no man struggles alone; that at each step of the way he has the companionship of God. He may be sure that the Saviour will not refuse to share his burden. God does not forget those who in patience and labor give proof of their love and devotion.

Church Merger Plans Postponed

TORONTO, May 15.—Possible merger of the United Church of Canada and the Canadian Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church was postponed here when the Conference decided to defer a vote of its congregations on the issue.

The Conference adopted a recommendation, however, that opportunities be sought to cultivate understanding and fellowship in the interests of both churches "in order to discover for us unmistakably the will of God in the ecclesiastical field."

One of the major objections raised to union was that by joining the United Church, the Conference would completely lose its affiliation with the U.S. body to which it belongs, and that its name and associations would be surrendered.

He who does not live from charity, that is, who does not live in good, can in no way receive any truth, but it is not implanted in his life. The mind is like a garden in the month, but not in his heart. For the truth which is called articles of belief and does not live in charity, is like a garden in the month, but not in his heart. For the truth which is called articles of belief and does not live in charity, is like a garden in the month, but not in his heart. SONGS THAT LIVE forever are featured in the musical production, "The Great Waltz" starting Monday at the Empress Theatre. The picture tells the story of a love that was stolen during a Viennese waltz. Fernand Gravet and golden voiced Miliza Korjus (above) take starring roles in the picture with lovely Luise Rainer.

City Service Club Members To Take Over Broadcasts

Oh, for a golden voice! That's what members of the Edmonton Kiwanis Club will be saying Monday when announcing.

All day Monday, May 17, city Kiwanians will take over the announcing jobs at radio station CFRN.

Unique job-for-a-day idea is being undertaken as part of the coast to coast Community Radio Week.

Everything from soap operas to the Church and Home Hour will be broadcast by about 40 Kiwanis members over CFRN.

And they intend to do a complete job of it.

At 6:30 a.m., Stewart McDougall, general manager of Canada Packers Ltd., will "kickoff" the station's Monday activities.

From then until midnight Kiwanians will ease their golden throats over the air-waves.

Most of them had no experience at announcing, but that isn't stopping them. Here are some of the programs they have planned for Monday:

At 10 a.m. Kiwanis president Walter Sprague and pianist Jack Deniston will conduct a short music show.

Between 12 noon and 1 p.m. the Kiwanians will broadcast their noon luncheon from the Macdonald hotel. A "hot stove league" will be aired on Gordie Williamson's sports broadcast between 12:45 and 1 o'clock.

John Ducey and John Beatty and others will take part in the hot-stove discussion.

It is hoped that Mayor Harry Ainlay will be in town to attend the broadcast.

At 5 p.m. Frank Herman's Magic Shop will be broadcast from the Kiwanis Children's Home.

Li-Col. "Bill" Cromb will conduct a half-hour music show beginning at 9 a.m.

In the meantime, regular CFRN announcers are said to be quite delighted with the prospect of an extra day of rest.

Public relations officer for the Kiwanians is L. G. Pugsley.

Hollywood Film Shop

By Patricia Clary
HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—The most frustrated people in Hollywood are the stand-ins, who are always before the camera but never on the screen.

Many of them spend their lives so near to screen success and yet so far away. Like pretty Evelyn Nash, Doris Day's stand-in in "My Dream Is Yours," they always hope that someday things will change around.

"At least," Miss Nash said resignedly, "I've come awfully close to being in a movie. You see those socks Doris Day is working on?"

Miss Day was reclining on a chaise longue, whipping the needles around a pair of argyle socks.

FOR BOY FRIEND
"They're my socks," Miss Nash said, "and I'm making them for my boy friend. At least I'll enjoy seeing how their colors pick up in Technicolor."

Miss Day used a tricky gold fountain pen in another scene, Miss Nash said. It's Miss Nash's pen, Michael Curtiz, the director and producer, saw her using it and borrowed it.

"One more step toward stardom," Miss Nash said optimistically.

"Mr. Curtiz used my Christmas present—a makeup box—as a prop in a bedroom scene," she added, "and last week he liked my Easter hat better than the one wardrobe sent over so he had Doris wear it. "My hat gets into the movies, but I'm not under it."

Miss Nash's greatest triumph was the time she got her head into a scene. When the movie came out, only the tips of her ears showed.

"I ask you," she asked, "how far can the tips of a girl's ears further her screen aspirations?"

Miss Nash hopes that she's learning more every day about acting.

"And with my hat, fountain pen, ears and makeup box in movies," she said, "maybe some day my turn will come."

hat better than the one wardrobe sent over so he had Doris wear it. "My hat gets into the movies, but I'm not under it."

Miss Nash's greatest triumph was the time she got her head into a scene. When the movie came out, only the tips of her ears showed.

"I ask you," she asked, "how far can the tips of a girl's ears further her screen aspirations?"

Miss Nash hopes that she's learning more every day about acting.

"And with my hat, fountain pen, ears and makeup box in movies," she said, "maybe some day my turn will come."

Mohr ON SPORT

Oma Belongs in Good Company
 Lee Oma, as anyone knows who has even a nodding acquaintance with what goes along Jacob Beach, is quite some shucks as a fighter.

Less than two years ago, for instance, he stopped Gus Lesnevich, present world's light heavy king. The bell tolled for artful Gus in the fourth round. As well Oma has copped a nod at the expense of such headliners as Tami Mauriello and Joe Baksi.

May 24, 1946, Lesnevich's conqueror lost a split decision to Jersey Joe Walcott. Whether it was Mauriello or Lesnevich or Walcott or the dozens of others with whom he has traded leather, Oma generally has given a good account of himself.

Reports have it that Oma is willing to let Edmonton and district resin rooters learn at first hand just how good a battler he is. Specifically, Oma is prepared to tackle Verne Escoe, Canada's heavyweight king, in a local ring. What's more there's a chance the meeting will come off, and before very long, too.

Friday it was learned that at least one of the service clubs is keen to get all the particulars. They want first of all to verify that Oma and Escoe actually are interested in showing their wares here. After that will be time enough to arrange such details as the size of the purse, where the fight can be staged, cost of the duets to the fans and more.

It Could Happen Here
 Barney O'Connor, former matchmaker for Edmonton Boxing Enterprises, is in receipt of an offer of the fight from Jimmy Jones, Escoe's manager. If it proves to be the McCoy, which may be turning next week that will result in the battle coming off.

Actually it shapes up as a natural, Oma, by reason of having on several occasions headlined the Friday night fight card heard locally over the CBC and Caledonia Sports, is well and favorably known to northern Albertans.

Escoe, a Toronto Negro, made a fine impression here just over a year ago. He took on Gordon Grayston at North West Air Command and easily chilled the western Canadian heavyweight ruler in a minute and 55 seconds of the fifth heat. Grayston was fat and flabby. Nevertheless Escoe looked the part of a clever, resourceful ring craftsman.

For the past several months he has been campaigning in the eastern states. His handlers have had several opportunities to watch while Oma, also doing his stuff in the same area, has flattened various opponents.

It must be that the Escoe crowd think their boy is ready for a crack at the more experienced Oma. It figured to be a tough assignment, considering the ring company with which Oma has hobnobbed.

The Headache: Where to Stage It?
 There's little doubt the fight would pack them in if a suitable spot could be found in Edmonton in which to stage it.

Considering that Oma, particularly, might come pretty high it's obvious a site large enough to accommodate a crowd of five or six thousand would have to be corralled.

In Edmonton this narrows the field to two places—Renfrew Park and the Arena. Almost certainly the baseball stadium would not be available. For one thing the Big Four League schedule allows for few open dates. In addition there's little chance that the park heads would be willing to risk damage to the grass infield, a new feature this year.

Left, then, is the Arena. Is it too far out of the way? The thousands of fans who flocked to the hockey games this past season prove that it isn't... providing the attraction is worthwhile.

Oma vs Escoe would be worthwhile... would be a good enough draw to fill the big ice palace notwithstanding its location.

The promoters—if they materialize—might get as much as $5.00 tops for this affair of the gloves. For regardless of what you may have heard Edmonton is potentially a fine fight town. The citizens will pay to see a good fight.

Leah, Elliott Girls Cop Swimming Titles
 Bob Leah and the Elliott sisters splashed their way to Boys' and Girls' Fair swimming honors at North West Air Command pool Friday night.

Leah won the Vic Horner Trophy, awarded for the highest number of points in the boys' division of the gala. The West End competitor scored 19 for his winning total. Doug McCallin trailed Leah in second place and won a Boys' and Girls' Fair plaque.

The Elliott girls—Doris and Ann—split feminine laurels, each paddling a 22-point night. They were co-winners of a girls' plaque until the 1949 fair.

The winners will receive their prizes at a presentation at the arena Saturday night.

Friday evening's gala was held in conjunction with the Boys' and Girls' Fair, under the YMCA's sponsorship. Doug Swail, Colleen McDonald, Nelson Swail, Tom Hall, and Doug Leitch handled the timing and judging duties.

Four-Horse Field In One-Horse Race

BALTIMORE, May 15.—(AP)—A four-horse field for a one-horse race where every owner stands to win some purse money was the final answer Friday as the entry book closed for the 72nd running of the rich Preakness stakes at old Pimlico.

Actually, nobody thinks anything with four legs has a chance to whip Calumet Farm's Citation so the act is proceeding on that basis.

COOL $138,870 POT
 Gross value of the 1 3/16-mile turf classic is a cool $138,870 of four to go to the post, that's surprising that only three has elected to oppose the Kentucky Derby winner this time.

The others officially entered for the Golden Gate were Better Self from Robert J. Kleberg's King Ranch, Cornelius V. Whitney's Vulcan's Forge, and Sylvester W. Labrot's Boward.

With Wagner's Citation this brought out the smallest Preakness field since 1943 when four started and Count Fleet won. Way back in the 1880s only two started in three Preaknesses.

Hardly anyone was in a dither about the race this time, most conceding Citation the victory and merely wondering just how much money he will garner for Wright before Calumet puts him on a pension.

Victory for Citation would bring him $91,870 and boost his total earnings to $422,700. This would make him sixth in the world's money-winning list headed by Storm. First Fiddle now is sixth with $388,610, while Sealiscuit ranks fifth with $337,730. Stormie still is racing, but First Fiddle is retired and Sealiscuit dead.

Yank Club Clips Athletics' Long Win String at 10

Vic Raschi Twirls 3-Hitter To Blank Philadelphia 3-0

NEW YORK, May 15.—(CP)—It had to end sometime. The hotshot bunch of Philadelphia Athletics since the days of Grove, Earnshaw and Simmons finally met their match in the New York Yankees who handed them a 3-0 loss Friday to end their winning streak at 10 straight.

Home runs were the deciding factor in a pitching battle between Carl Scheff and the Yankees' Vic Raschi. Scheff allowed four hits to Raschi, three, but yielded four-runners to Yogi Berra and Johnny Lindell that accounted for the three New York tallies.

Raschi had seven strikeouts against three walks for his second win of the season.

Detroit Tigers, who haven't won a game for the home folks all season, found the Briggs Stadium drought still operating as they dropped a 3-0 verdict to St. Louis Browns. Right-hander Fred Sanford handuffed the Bengals with five safeties, while doubles by Al Zarilla, Whitey Platt and Pete Layden gave the Browns their win.

Andy Pafko's eighth-inning homer broke up another tight pitching duel as Chicago Cubs edged Cincinnati Reds 1-0. Russ Meyer threw a four-hitter at the Rhinelanders and fanned eight for his third victory against a single loss. Kent Peterson was picked for eight safeties but stayed out of trouble until Pafko's big hit.

Howie Pollet had to be good in the pinches to shade 40-year-old Fritz Ostermuller, as St. Louis Cardinals defeated Pittsburgh Pirates 4-1 under the lights at Sportsman's Park.

Ostermuller, who yielded only four hits, lost his game when Stan Musial got to him for a two-run homer in the fourth. Pollet gave up 10 hits and was in trouble in nearly every inning, but gave up his only tally in the eighth on three successive singles.

The win enabled the Cardinals to jump into second place in the National League, half a game ahead of the Pirates and another halfgame behind the idle New York Giants.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Dank Weather Frowns
On Shopping Activity

By Bea Thrifty

And the rains came!
And they stayed. I'm sure the first crocus isn't anxious to poke its delicate head into the world and brave the elements—if this kind of weather is spring.

These are the days when we want to be off to look for pussy-willows—or window-shop for flowery bonnets... not wallowing in the rain and mud.

Everyone loves to complain about the weather. But for deep comic cracks, let me tell you what a last driver said when I grumbled about the treacherous behaviour of the weather.

He said:
"Listen lady, I've been driving a cab since 1924 and I can tell you this much: Every year the weather gets to be more like the people."

But to the business at hand: shopping news.
Potatoes—still bothsome—are slowly approaching a price within reach of the average household. That they're still way up at 50c a pound. Perhaps our day will come——all good comes to those who wait.

News for the cyclist-set is the display of sharp-as-sack pedal pushers. Mothers may need a briefing on "pedal pushers": They are slacks off at calf-length... perfect for cycling... "cause there are no cuffs to get caught in the chains, wheels and whatnots.

You'll see them in plaid wools, for about $7.95 in durable alpines for $5.35 and in heavy poplins for around $3.

No cook wants to be caught short on her savings.
On the other hand, if she doesn't want the refrigerator continually cluttered with leftover foods—she must pay some attention to this provision of quantities.

For instance: One cup dry macaroni makes two cups when cooked; one cup rice makes three when cooked; one cup quick-cooking oats makes 2 1/2 cups porridge.
And eighteen small crackers yield one cup when crumbled; one pound round cheese when grated makes one cup; one cup whipping cream heats up to two cups; one pound green peas in the pod, when shelled and cooked, yield one cup.

With the advent of returning salad greens—dressings assumes a tremendous importance.
Consider this lemoning dressing:

Squeeze juice from one lemon. Then put the rind, the whole thing through a food chopper, using the finest blade. Combine the two and add three tablespoons of sugar and let this stand at least one hour.

Mix up 1/2 cup mayonnaise with 1/2 cup sour cream. Then add the lemon dressing.

A wonderful dressing and simply perfect with shredded cabbage.

Diet-conscious women will be interested in the new type of low-calorie content crisp "bread" to me it has little more appeal than sand—but at least you'd never have trouble with your waistline.

Actually it's crisp and quite tasty—buy it for 31c.
It comes in a 10-inch diameter disk—about 1 inch thick. Try some—
—I dare you.

More tomato talk—but this time it's the tomato sauce I'm nattering about.

When making meat sauces, spaghetti, this is more help than spaghetti. Diluted, it makes an excellent sauce.

Spicy and tangy—rich with tomato goodness—you're wise to always have some on hand.

Leftover problems can be cleared up in a minute when you have something like a good, wholesome tomato sauce to fall back on.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Romance and Logic
Don't Always Mix

DEAR MISS DIX: What would you think if you told a college boy that you loved him and he replied that he thought very much of you, but that when he said "I love you" he wanted to be real sure about it?

The night before I told him I loved him he was asking me what my idea of a honeymoon for a young couple should be, and what did I think of living in a trailer for a year or two so we could save money?

Do you think that he loves me? I wonder how many of you girls would do the same thing?

ANSWER: Nobody can look into the heart of a college boy and tell whether it is really palpitating with doubtless love, or whether he is just trying to put on a romantic act. I take rather a dim view of the latter, for I think if the boy really is in love with you he wouldn't be so analytical of his feelings. He would know how you stood in his affections.

At any rate, it seems to me that you are playing the game badly by telling the boy that you are in love with him. That taken all of the pep out of the courtship, for boys are peculiarly like to think that they are the pursuers instead of the pursued.

MERE TALK.

Don't take seriously his asking you your views on a honeymoon. That sounds like mere conversation for he would be telling you and drawing a very picture of his feelings if he really had any intentions of marrying you at any time soon.

Certainly he is putting you to a good test of your affections when he proposes living for a year or two in a trailer. That must be love.

THE DAINY CAKE BAKERY

Standing and walking gracefully is one of the most important things you must learn if you want your charm to compete with that of Michael Towne and Gloria Henry, above.

WHY GROW OLD

Graceful Walk, Posture
Adds To Feminine Charm

By Josephine Lowman

Few women give thought to the way they walk. Yet a flowing graceful walk adds so much to attractiveness while a jerky awkward gait has a jarring effect on those who watch it. Certainly persons who deal in beauty as a business attend the greatest importance to the way they walk and stand and sit and move!

I have watched the starlets being put through their paces on Hollywood movie lots. They endure gruelling training in going up steps and coming down, in walking, in sitting down in a chair and in getting up out of it, in the way they use their hands.

These things they must learn before they are ever allowed to glide across a silver screen. Usually they hold themselves beautifully and move with grace the effect would be miserably unattractive. Film and time are expensive so their physical training is complete before they have a chance to try out their dramatic powers.

If you wish to improve your walk there are a few salient points you should keep vividly in mind. In the first place many women throw their weight from side to side rather than reaching forward from the pelvis back in a long step.

One widely-known beauty salon teaches walking by beginning with a long exaggerated creeping step which thoroughly grounds the individual in the feeling of the long forward reach and rhythmic step. After this has been conquered the step is shortened and the knees are straightened out of a semi-crouching position but the smooth glide forward remains.

If you are going to pull your hips under and a relaxed feeling at the knees. Your arms swing naturally and gracefully with your right arm moving forward as you step out with your left foot.

One should point neither in nor out, it is good practice to walk along a straight line. Draw a chalk line and practice on that.

If you wish to have my leaflet No. 57 "Grace and Charm" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Early Stammering
Just Passing Phase

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The stammering which afflicts the child who is just learning to talk does not stem from exactly the same cause as the stammering of an older child who has mastered the art of speech.

Almost all children during the 2 to 3-year-old period, go through a phase of stammering. They want to get attention and try to talk rapidly and cannot. Their thoughts outstrip their words. They walk, sleep, eat with a degree of unevenness and uneven speech is just another illustration of this period of development.

Mrs. H. K. McI. writes that she feels there is a great deal of misinformation about stammering. "I had a child who stuttered up to the fifth year and came close to being a serious problem. I was fortunate enough to have expert help with this. I know he would endure heartily all you have written about this."

WANT MORE HELP
"If parents want more help they can get it from the following books: 'Because I Stutter' by Dr. Wendell Johnson, Appleton-Century, publishers, and 'People in Quandaries' by the same author and Harper Bros. publishers. These will help parents of older children who are stammering."

Thank you for this information. I hope readers will understand that I do not have these books, but that they may be read or borrowed in any public library, or bought or ordered from any book seller.

Mrs. M.C.—About the quarrelling of your two-year-old and companion. The answer appeared in the column sometime the week of April 5 and 10.

CHILD TOO YOUNG
Had you seen this before your second letter was written you would have known that I would not have approved of the stand you took. Your child is too young to be left unprotected from a child who is taking like a baby, and is not responsible for what he does. You and the mother are responsible and should shoulder your burden.

Bitting, kicking and treating children as inanimate objects, is expected at this age. But, this doesn't mean that you should let your small boy take the brunt of such behavior. He'll defend himself when he is older and able to do so. Now, the children should be separated promptly, the moment such behavior begins.

Our leaflet No. 57 "Children's Quarrels" may be had by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

May-Time Is Activity Time

Summertime is fun-time! Here's May-time with a bright sun waiting around a cloud to soak into your bones . . . inviting you to frolic upon the greening hill.

Well . . . perhaps that's going a little far. But at least you'll want to get out your golf clubs, your riding logs, your garden tools, and wax eloquent over the freshness of the air, the balminess of the breeze, the sweetness of new-blooming flowers.

There is no need to mention that spring is a little late this year—but in spite of this weather balk—seasonal activities are well under way.

Golf and country clubs are busy planning their opening teas . . . tennis courts are being whipped into shape . . . young and old are well-initiated into long walks in the spring evenings.

Muddy roads have discouraged any great hiking expeditions—but a few of the brave have ventured forth.

Flower gardens, lawns and vegetable patches are just beginning to show signs of civilization . . . neatly raked and hoed.

Everyone is waiting—some patiently—some impatiently—for the high sign from the weatherman before they work up an active enthusiasm for summer sport participation.

But the law of averages is on our side—it can't be cold forever! Or can it?

OFF TO THE WOODS TO COMMUNE WITH NATURE

AWAY TO THE WOODS: 'Tis the merry month of May and time for spring and summer activities to get in full swing. June Carlson, Sheila McNeill and Ann Field, left to right, are busy organizing themselves for a hike. From the big smile—it looks like it's going to be fun! Can't you just smell the sweetness roasting over the camp-fire?

SPORT ENTHUSIASTS TAKE TO GOLF

FAIRWAY FUN: It's Mrs. Thomas Morris, member of the Mayfair Golf and Country Club, who is standing about the fairway, busy with her favorite spring and summer activity. Golf—good exercise—good fun—and a wonderful sport.

Eire Housewives Learn Carpentry

Kilkenny Technical School Runs Classes in Making Furniture

KILKENNY, Eire, May 15.—(CP)—Sewing circles and bridge clubs are back numbers in Kilkenny. Here the women do their weekly gossiping at carpentry classes.

Obvious to the shrill scream of a circular saw, they exchange woodworking tips instead of cake recipes and discuss varieties of lumber instead of the length of dresses.

The Kilkenny Technical School conducts three weekly classes for housewives and shopgirls at women's all types of carpentry are taught, some regular in the making of household furniture.

Are women as adept at cabinet making as men? Nearly, says instructor John Barry, but they are too fond of darning at things.

"Just because they slip up a grand piece of paste in an afternoon or run up a little fence on the machine they think they can do all the work," says Barry, who says they must learn to hurry slowly, devoting plenty of time and patience to the work.

Much of the carpentry is done in native woods—deal, oak, ash, elm and spruce, which is harder to work than many of the Canadian timbers, yield many novel effects when finished.

The women have the wood at the school at prices which just cover cost plus a small profit. Barry and senior instructor John Gibb insist on operating the mechanical saw themselves. "It is not suitable for ladies; too dangerous," says Gibb—but otherwise the students do all the work.

Most of the class wear scarves and skirts at work; a few sport brightly-colored dungarees.

The more advanced students also design their own work, block out sketches of the finished object which an instructor approves before they go ahead with it.

The oldest member of the class, who boasts of being 74, is working on a bookshelf which fits over a bed. She has drawers, bedside tables, bed-end china cabinets—fitting the own glass panels, fireproofers, lockboxes, work benches with hampers and cocktail trays.

Most of the class wear scarves and skirts at work; a few sport brightly-colored dungarees.

Any demand for primary foods such as beef should be the cause of a rise in price, just the cause of the demand. A necessity should not dictate a price, executive members concluded.

Objection was made to the fact that consumers are having second quality meat yet paying first quality prices.

Members further concluded that since Parliament's committee on prices has proven that a profit can be made on bread selling at 10c a loaf, bread at 12c a loaf is too high a price.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. F. Conroy, Mrs. R. G. Brower, Mrs. H. Roy, Mrs. E. M. Andrews, Mrs. D. I. Greene, Mrs. J. J. McGuire, Mrs. H. P. Seeger and Mrs. A. C. Emery.

Highlands playground will open May 24 it was decided at a recent meeting of the Highlands Community League.

Stella Holenko, playground supervisor, asked for parent co-operation in carrying out the proposed program. St. Graham introduced Mrs. Holenko to those present.

Mrs. F. Farley will convene a rummage sale sponsored by the Highlands Ladies' Community League to be held in the Social Credit hall Thursday.

Donations may be left at the rink house during the afternoon and evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday.

Ladies of the Mayfair Golf and Country Club will entertain ladies of the Edmonton Golf and Country Club at luncheon and golf at Mayfair Tuesday.

BRIDGE

Contract Requires Best of Teamwork

By William E. McKenney

Today's hand is a great example of teamwork in bridge. The bidding was normal enough and most pairs experienced no difficulty in making four spades with one exception.

At one table East gave some thought to his opening lead, and

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass

Opening—4 ♠ 15

Instead of leading the king of clubs as practically every club East player did, he led the club queen. He was not playing the convention of underleading leading honors. He simply thought that since he was void in diamonds his partner might possibly be void in clubs.

In every case where the king of clubs was opened West did not trump. But when the queen of clubs was opened West trumped with the five of spades. Then he led back a diamond which was trumped with the nine of spades. Another club was led back, declared. West overtrumped with the eight-spot, returned a diamond, lost trump with the Jack, but still had to make the ace of clubs.

Thus the contract was set two tricks.

If declarer had trumped the ace and club with the queen of spades, he would have lost the contract because East would have made second in making both the ace and club.

Truman Asks More Money For Defence

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)

President Truman yesterday formally asked congress for $2,434,411,000 more for the United States defense program.

Yesterday's request brings the total defense outlay for more than $14,000,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

This is how the extra money, asked would be spent:

The air force would get $221,794,000. With this, it plans to increase the number of aircraft in active inventory to 10,297 first and second line planes. It includes funds for direct and indirect support of the 70-group air force program.

The navy would receive $800,354,000 over its previous budget total and the army $1,542,207,000 over its original estimate.

"Built-Ins" Save Space—and Money

Modern Home Planning
Interesting and Useful

By Bert Nightingale

A space enclosed by walls and roof, divided into rooms by interior partitions and furnished by the owner, that was the average home not so many years ago. Today the picture is changed. Now we have "built-ins" and "set-ins."

In the main, a built-in is a piece of furniture or some convenience which can more efficiently be fitted or designed into a house than bought separately as furniture. Not all of these need be specially built on the job; in fact manufacturers today are getting more and more into the production of stock built-ins, kitchen cabinets and the like.

As much as anything else in the post-war house, built-ins contribute to better living in less space. Kitchen cabinets, for instance, are an accepted staple of how your house can be made more efficient, more comfortable, more useful to you by the use of built-ins.

In the living room, the most common example is the bookcase. "Set-ins," however, much more than can be done. A built-in radio in its simplest form, need only be a cabinet built as part of the book case with colorful front panels, speakers and speaker. Cabinets can be installed alongside a projecting fireplace. Bookcases and cupboards in combination might be used to set off the dining area.

Attractive cabinets or shelf space often fit almost a major piece of furniture like a davenport, if furniture placement is planned in advance. For that matter, the davenport itself may be set in.

Equal opportunity exists for built-ins in bedrooms, particularly in connection with closets. A carefully planned closet actually has twice the utility of old-time closets fitted with no more than a coat rack. Two rods, one above the other, will provide twice the storage space because it utilizes the waste space between the floor and the garment and above the rod.

Such an arrangement means that a special place must be provided for longer garments, the evening clothes and overcoats.

Shoe and hat racks of metal can be fastened to the back of the closet door.

Wide closets should have double doors either swinging or built to slide into the wall on either side or alongside each other, thus giving easy access to all parts of the closet. All closets should be at least two feet deep so that garments will hang properly without rubbing against walls and doors. Shallow closets can be equipped with pull-out rods, made-made racks and trouser hangers can be hung on the inside of the door.

BEDROOM OPPORTUNITIES

The bedroom also offers other opportunities for built-ins. For young children, many people are for bunk beds above the other to beds. Youngsters like them and they save space.

In most cases there is considerable unused wall space in bedrooms. There is plenty of room, also, each space should be used for each area in the form of built-ins and shelving useful for storing bedclothes as well as personal effects. This is a more efficient and useful than utilizing of space than to fill the room with dressers, chests of drawers and the like. It also means that bedrooms can be made smaller without sacrificing livability.

Cabinet and shelf space near the bed is important also because it gives you a space for lighting, either fixed or in the form of lamps, space for a radio, books, magazines, a telephone extension and the like.

A built-in dressing table, planned for good lighting, mirrors and so on is desirable.

In the second floor bedrooms of stores and half houses, or in so-called attic rooms, the space back of the stairs will ordinarily be wasted. It can be used for a radio, books, magazines, a telephone extension and the like.

A built-in dressing table, planned for good lighting, mirrors and so on is desirable.

The opportunity for built-ins or set-ins is limited only by the imagination and the skill of the designer. In most cases, such built-ins are more attractive than the furniture they replace, use less space and cost less money.

Poor Roof-Decks Cause Of Trouble

Unsatisfactory roof-decks are the cause of many roofing troubles. For this reason home builders, in building the many country home-owners who are counting on getting some long-awaited addition built up during this summer, are advised by all building experts to give very careful attention to all

Guide to Home Builders

THE THAYER

Small Homes of Originality

2470 Cubic Feet 15,400 Cubic Feet

This home offers all the comforts of modern living and the efficiency of five rooms.

Great stress is placed on the inclusion of picture windows in modern homes. Because of their larger size, these windows let in more light and afford an unbroken picturesque, intriguing view which contributes more to the livability of a room than paintings or tapestries could ever do. Today, they are standard items and may be had at a cost within moderate reason.

The Edmonton Bulletin's new, modern house booklet "SMALL HOMES OF ORIGINALITY" is available by mail, postage paid $1.00—or at the Bulletin Office.

Details of their roof-deck construction should be used to cover any defects which may appear after the sheathing is in place.

When the deck is completed, a waterproofing material should be laid over it as a protection against dampness. It is important also that only as much decking should be laid in one day as can be covered with the waterproofing material.

GOOD WOOD ESSENTIAL

Wood decks should be made from well-seasoned lumber (1 x 6 in.), tightly matched and secured so each supporting rather by two 80 shingles. The wood should be of sound, warp-free material, such as redwood, cedar or white pine. Shrinkage should be rejected. Shrinkage will not be lost.

Spring Time For Check-Up

Spring is not only the time for housecleaning, garden-planting and general clean-up and beautification work around city and country property. It is also a good time for a check-up on the condition of building construction, whether city dwelling, country residence or farm and farm buildings.

Among the first checks which should be made are on the two extremities, roof and foundations. If any leaks or cracks are developed at the winter's snow melted away, the time to locate the trouble is now, before summer thunderstorms can do further damage to ceilings and rafters. With asphalt shingles and roll-roofing in plentiful supply now is the time also to get re-roofing jobs done on dwellings, summer cottages, barns and so other buildings.

WOODEN CONSTRUCTION

Wooden construction should be checked for mildew and wood-rot particularly in the foundations. These are fungus growths, caused by invisible organisms carried in the atmosphere in great numbers, which can be dealt with by use of copper naphthenate, a water-soluble chemical, which not only kills off the fungus but also acts as a preservative of the wood.

All wiring and electrical connections should be examined periodically, and while checking over the house construction generally is a good time as any to get this done. Nearly 10 per cent of all fires in Canada during 1946 were caused by faulty wiring and electrical appliances.

Chimneys and flues should also be looked at at this time of year. If any tendency towards overheating was noticed during the winter, get the repairs done before fall is out off, they may be forgotten until the winter, when it may be too late.

23-TON PIECE TOO MUCH GUN

PARIS, May 15.—(AP)—The United States army more than obliged France Legation with its contribution to the city's war memorial.

The veterans' group had requested a field piece suitable for mounting on the public square. The gift arrived—a 23-ton howitzer used by General Meade's forces during the North African campaign.

Legion Commander Robert Bogart didn't even try to have the 35-ton weapon moved from the flat car it monopolized. He wired army ordinance that the howitzer wasn't at all what the legion men had in mind.

The army took his order for two light 75-millimeter guns.

He looked at this time of year. If any tendency towards overheating was noticed during the winter, get the repairs done before fall is out off, they may be forgotten until the winter, when it may be too late.

Long Experience As Hair Stylist

City's Newest and Most Up-To-Date Tonsorial Lounge

Twenty years experience as a hair stylist and tonsorial expert, is the record of Norris Pacey, proprietor of Edmonton's newest and most modern barber lounge, situated in the new Tower building.

Pacey and four others will officiate at the new tonsorial and cosmetic establishment.

Barbering chores for men will be handled by Albert O'Haw John Scrimmage and Pacey.

Speedy Service Pacey claims his new establishment will "provide a complete and speedy barber and beauty service for men and women."

Proud of his lengthy experience in Edmonton, Pacey can boast of several certificates of proficiency from several leading American beauticians and hair stylists.

He has worked with and studied under such notables as Condos, Chicago, Valenlyne, New York and Mart Gattman, Los Angeles.

Considered one of the best men in his line of business in western Canada, Pacey claims he "keeps abreast of all modern styles and present day vogue among beauticians."

During off duty hours, Pacey spends considerable time with his music, and is leader of one of Edmonton's better known dance bands.

He is married and with his wife Hope, and son Russell, 3, lives at 11449 67 street.

Warm Uniforms For North Nurses

OTTAWA, May 15.—(CP)—Army nurses working outdoors in the northern posts at Fort Churchill and at Whitehorse, in the Yukon, will be issued with warm khaki uniforms, it was learned here last night.

The uniform, which is similar to those worn during the Second World War by members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, also will be issued to nursing sisters travelling on RCAF aircraft and those engaged in home sick-visiting at isolated stations.

The uniform consists of a battle dress blouse, heavy khaki trousers or skirt, khaki shirt, brown ankle boots and khaki beret.

NORRIS PACEY, one of Edmonton's top ranking beauticians and hair stylists, who is proprietor of the new and ultra-modern Pacey's Barber Lounge, in the new Tower building.

Most Modern Barber Shop

Waste of valuable business time for barber service is now a thing of the past in Edmonton.

Effective Monday, May 17, Norris Pacey, one of the city's leading hairdressers and tonsorial artists, will open the first and only barber service by appointment in Edmonton.

Pacey's new barber lounge, which will be housed in the new Tower building, 103rd Street, Edmonton's newest and most modern business building.

Three barber experts, trained in the scientific tapering of hair will man this new and ultra modern tonsorial establishment.

By Appointment Outstanding feature of Pacey's barber lounge is that persons desiring barber service may set their own appointment time.

In other words they will be admitted to the barber's chair at whatever time suits them.

All they are required to do to obtain this speedy barber service is phone for an appointment, stating time and day preferable, and on arrival step up and into the barber's chair.

There'll be no more annoying long waits for barber service at Pacey's.

Businessmen's Need This special service feature, designed to needs and convenience of businessmen and persons unable to waste time waiting, fulfills a long awaited need for such an undertaking and should prove extremely popular with those desiring speedy barber attention.

Featuring the latest in barbering equipment, supplies and fixtures, Pacey's is definitely designed along the "barber shop of tomorrow" lines.

A very attractive color design adorns the walls. An arched blue predominates, with a soft tone cream ceiling and deep peach trim.

Eastern birch panelling in natural finish and trimmed with chrome, enhance the attractiveness which is brought out by the dark blue speckled inlaid linoleum.

The entire establishment exudes a warmth of comfort and cheerfulness.

Calgary Policeman Honored By CWAC

CALGARY, May 15.—(CP)—Frank E. Ward, Calgary police statistician, last night became the first man in Canada to hold a life-membership in the Canadian Women's Army Corps. He was presented with the membership by officials of the Calgary branch, CWAC, last night in appreciation of his services to the corps during the Second World War.

Ward, a First World War amputee, played an active part in the organization of the CWAC here during the last war. His wife, Florence, served overseas with the corps.

What Character does your handwriting Reveal?

How well do you know yourself? Do you know your own character, the type of occupation you are best suited for, the kind of man or woman you should marry, the latent powers which may lay hidden within yourself? Science can tell you all of these things. The exact science of graphology.

Let Andreanne, famous graphologist, help you. All you have to do is send twenty-five cents in (coin) and a Stamped Self-addressed Envelope, together with a sample of your handwriting to Andreanne, care of The Edmonton Bulletin. You may also send in the handwriting of your husband, wife, sweetheart, friends or relatives. A small scrap taken from part of a letter will be sufficient for Andreanne to analyze.

The inclination of your writing is a "heart" barometer measuring the degree of your affection. I have already discussed the right slope and the very sloping type of writing and today will review the backhand style of writing of which the late Carole Lombard was an excellent example.

The backhand type of writing slants to the left or leans backward. To judge accurately backhand writing may be a little difficult and at times confusing. This style of writing is often affected by individuals with a desire to be "different" and give their personalities a dramatic stamp.

Then, too, there are statisticians and librarians who are required to write vertical or backhand, but if this is not indicative of their temperament, their writing will later resume its natural slope.

With practice and observation you can learn to know the difference between the assumed and natural forms of these two styles of writing.

Carole Lombard's writing was a natural backhand.

Dear Miss Andreanne—
This is a sample of my handwriting.
Carole Lombard

Independent, vibrant, alert, she dared to be individualistic. There was courage and fearlessness of manner which indicated that she could take care of herself in any emergency. However, her practical qualities did not diminish her feminine charm, dramatic powers and artistic ability.

Refreshingly frank and candid, she did not mince her words nor did she resort to subtle tactics, but was even masculine in her directness.

Her witty mind and delightful sense of humor gave her an agility in parry of repartee. Carole was a very amusing and entertaining companion.

Like all backhand writers, she did not outwardly reveal her emotions but her sophistication did not conceal her great capacity for feeling and keen sensitiveness.

We can thus conclude that people who write backhand are suppressing their emotions. They conceal their true feelings from the casual observer. If the writing is small and cramped, it indicates a cold and selfish nature. If the writing is large, then we have people who are extremely emotional, impulsive and ardent, but who, on the surface, suppress their feelings and do not show themselves as they really are.

Next week, I will discuss the sloping nearly vertical type of writing.

Andreanne

U.K. Govt. to Protect Canadians in Palestine

OTTAWA, May 15.—(CP)—External Affairs Minister St. Laurent indicated in the Commons yesterday that the Canadian government is relying on the British government to protect Canadian nationals in Palestine.

When asked by T. L. Church (PC-Toronto Broadway) what steps the government had taken to protect Canadian nationals, now that the British mandate has ended, St. Laurent said:

"This government has felt that it would be rather impertinent for it to try to intrude to affect the measures being taken by the mandatory power which not only over the years but over the centuries has given proof that it was always conscious of its responsibilities and always did what I think most responsible men and women would feel was proper in the discharge of its responsibilities."

He was sure the United Kingdom had taken all steps necessary to protect her own nationals.

OTTAWA, May 15.—(CP)—Canada will probably recognize the new Jewish state in Palestine after consultation with the British government, a cabinet source indicated last night.

He said he hopes and believes that President Truman's announcement of recognition for the "new state of Israel" was preceded by consultations with Britain.

"We hope the great powers will follow parallel lines and the smaller powers would naturally fall in line," he said.

Canada's recognition of the new state would not necessarily be delayed until Britain announced a similar step, the source said, but it was known what course Prime Minister Attlee's government will follow.

Outside the Commons, Maj. J. G. S. Herwig, secretary of the Dominion Command of the Canadian Legion, confirmed Mr. Pouliot's statement that draftees are not eligible for Legion membership.

"The question was closely debated at our national convention in Quebec City in 1946," said Maj. Herwig. "It was decided that conscripted personnel of the Canadian Army would not be considered under those eligible for membership."

However, Maj. Herwig said the question would again come up for debate at the Dominion convention to be held at Saskatoon May 23.

WALKING UP 898 STAIRS TOO TOUGH

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Richard Mansfield, 67, night guard at the Washington monument, thinks he might have been a good candidate for the "walking man."

He has trotted down the monument's 898 iron stairs at least five nights a week for the last 2½ years. And he says he makes it in 10 minutes.

Why doesn't he take the elevator?

The answer dates back to 1929. A Vermont woman spent the night on the monument stairway and then complained of "involuntary" imprisonment.

So Mansfield is taking no chances with his inspection. Once he starts down, he never stops to rest.

But he adds:

"I'd quit tomorrow if I had to walk up."
